ODDFELLOWS OFFICERS.

Mr. A. D. Cole of DeKalb Lodge Elected Grand Warden at Paducah.

At the forty-ninth session of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows at Paducah the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year:

Deputy Grand Master—Thomas Reed of Covington.
Grand Warden—A. D. Cole of Maysville.

The Grand Secretary will have his office removed to Lexington, the Grand Lodge having ordered the removal. There has been much contention over the location of the office of the Grand Secretary, both Louisville and Lexington demanding it, but the Grand Lodge settled it in favor of Lexington.

RAY—VAUGHT.

Nuptials Yesterday Noon at M. E. Church, South.

LEFT FOR A TRIP IN THE EAST.

At high noon yesterday in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, occurred the marriage of Miss Kate Hampton Vaught to Mr. Charles Dorsey Ray of Bourbon county.

The chancel rail, altar and rear of the arch were festooned with vines, palms and ferns, with lamps half hid beneath, which gave a glowing beauty to the scene, accentuating the green and white and giving a background most appropriate. All natural light was excluded, and the brilliant effect of gas made the interior a veritable garden of love.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Sarah and Miss Louise Vaught, who walked alone, while the way to the altar was by Mr. J. J. Williams of Paris and Mr. W. O. Vaught of Versailles, who were the ushers.

The bride came unattended, and was clad in full bridal toilet—an exquisite organdie of purest white made over satin, with dainty Valenciennes lace insertion, the tulle veil as a shimmering spray enveloping her, and when the words were said which made her wife and the veil was thrown off it revealed a beautiful girl, doubly beautiful because of the happiness which was hers.

The groom entered the Church with the Rev. Mr. Vaught and met his bride at the altar. Mr. Ray is a splendid looking fellow, a typical Kentuckian—erect, handsome and able.

The ceremony was impressively said by Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, local Pastor and father of the bride.

Mrs. C. Ed. Gelsel presided at the organ, and the friends assembled comfortably filled the Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray left at 3:35 for the East, and there amid the scenes and environments will the honeymoon be spent.

When they return to Kentucky they will go to the groom's fine farm near Paris.

May all joys attend them from now on.

Among the guests from a distance who attended the wedding were Miss Ellen of Catlettsburg, Miss Roberta Vaught of Harrodsburg, Mrs. James Clay, Miss Mary Irwin Davis, Colonel J. G. Craddock, Mrs. Anna Hart, Miss Bessie Holliday, Miss Mayme McClintock, Mrs. Ben B. Hutchcraft, Mayor C. D. Webb, Miss Lucy Lowry, Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mr. John Williams, Mrs. Walter Kenney, Mr. V. E. Shipp and son, all of Paris; Prof. W. O. Vaught of Versailles, Mr. Ben Hutchcraft of Louisville and Mrs. Dr. Miller of Millersburg.

NEWS IN KENTUCKY.

THE KENTUCKY STAKE.

McDowell's Filly, Extasy, Won Easily in Straight Heats—Malzour Won the Next Race.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 12.—The Kentucky stake was a feature of the card at the trots Wednesday and Maj. H. C. McDowell's grand filly Extasy was the favorite over a good field selling at $25, the field bringing $10. There was little betting at these odds as the race seemed a gift for the filly. She proved worthy of her backers confidence winning handily in straight heats. She was never extended and the race was a procession in both heats.

Malzour was another favorite to land the money. He was a mild first choice, bringing only 13 to the field's 25. He won the first heat and for the second was a hot favorite. Malzour took the next two heats and the race easily.

The 2:19 trot was the only split heat event of the day. The well played second choice Glory took the race after dropping the first heat to Fleetwood. The favorite, Cutting, could do no better than third money. The track was slow, dizzling rain having fallen during the night. The day was cloudy and the weather such that but a small crowd was in attendance.

Fire at Providence.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12.—Joe Choyinski and Steve O'Donnell were billed for a 20-round bout before the Monarch Athletic club Wednesday night, but Choyinski refused to go on because of the small receipts. Two bouts between local fighters were given, but the crowd was badly disappointed.

SUDDENLY STRICKEN.

Mrs. Anna Herrington Attacked With a Serious Illness This Morning.

About 7:30 this morning Mrs. Anna Herrington, residing at 101 Commerce street, was engaged with the family washing.

She was seized suddenly with illness and fell, falling the table over on her.

After being carried into her room it was found that her lower extremities were rigid, and she was taken violently sick at the stomach.

It was reported that she had attempted suicide, but there are no facts to sustain this theory.

When THE LEDGER went to press she was resting easily.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, P. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

FRIDAY'S CASH SALE.

At the close of each season manufacturers gather the remnants of fabrics left, tie them in bundles and sell them at prices below regular. The material is in every way equal to the bolt goods, but coming in short lengths is sold at a reduction. These remnants are called "Mill Ends." It was our good fortune to receive a large consignment of Outing Flannel mill ends which enables us to sell

THE 8½c. QUALITY FOR 5c.

They come in 8 to 10-yard lengths in stripes of pink, red, blue, heliotrope, tan, gray or cardinal, chiefly on cream grounds, only a few dark colors in the lot. The goods suggest the snuggest sort of material for bed gowns and children's wear. Just a clearance the maker said, but the lot is big and tempting and the price much less than even we could make it under ordinary circumstances.
